Steven D. Stark

A graduate of Harvard College and Yale Law School, Stark has given hundreds of writing and speaking courses all over the country. He is a former litigator and law clerk to a federal appellate judge, as well as a former Lecturer on Law at Harvard Law School. Stark is a commentator for Public Radio, and is the world sports columnist for the Montreal Gazette. He authored the books, "Glued to the Set: The 60 Television Shows and Events that Made Us Who We Are Today," which was published in the spring of 1997, and "Writing to Win: The Legal Writer," which was published in the winter of 2000 and has been hailed as an invaluable guidebook to better legal writing.

past registrants say it best

Best CLE I've attended in 18 years in the Bar!

Effective presentation, great preparation and examples, great job of involving audience!

Will recommend this program for entire office.

Stark was informative, engaging and kept a great pace.

course materials

In addition to course materials, each registrant will receive Mr. Stark's book, Writing to Win, the nation's leading text on litigation writing. These materials are not available for separate purchase.

about the program

You work with words every day—in your memos, trial briefs, appellate briefs, complaints, client letters—and the words that you choose in those documents convey your ability, confidence and savvy. What message are you sending?

Writing is an essential career tool—but it is a skill that does not come easily! Join nationally acclaimed lecturer and author Steven D. Stark for a day on writing for litigators, including guidance on writing at the trial and appellate levels. Described as “the David Letterman of CLE” and known for his witty and engaging style, he will share with you dozens of everyday useful hints to help you write briefs and motions that command attention.

Through a combination of lecture, demonstration, and hands-on exercises, you will learn

- The do's and don'ts of legal prose
- How to write and edit more efficiently
- How to apply storytelling to your writing of statements of fact
- How studying advertisements can help your arguments

Once learned, the skills to better writing are yours for life. And you won't believe how easy some of Stark's suggestions are to apply to your work! As an added bonus, you will take home Stark's book, Writing to Win, the nation's leading text on litigation writing.
